✦ AI Overview   ⋮

Puppeteer is a Node.js library that offers a high-level API to control Chromium-based browsers (and recently, Firefox) in either a headless (without a visible UI) or non-headless mode. This makes it a powerful tool for web scraping, especially when dealing with dynamic, JavaScript-heavy websites.

Key features of Puppeteer for web scraping:

Handling dynamic content:
Puppeteer can execute JavaScript on a page, allowing it to interact with elements that are loaded or modified dynamically, unlike simpler scrapers that only process static HTML.

~~Simulating user interactions:~~
